

Questions to ask when considering BCC Ignite

How long does it take to get a new job up and running?

How much effort is required to find and fix errors?

Do you have to turn away any work because your workload is at maximum capacity?

How many manual touchpoints are in your processes?

Do you have multiple systems or points of data input that are not communicating with each other?

Do you need to hire more people to handle a larger workload?

Are you paying overtime?
